

GM Scotland Enquirers' Weekend October 2019—Call for Participation

1. What's this about?

Fill me in, please!

All of the above is happening on Saturday in Stirling. The 'weekend' part is optional: if you live near enough, or can manage to stay somewhere nearby, please join us for Meeting for Worship at Dunblane Meeting on Sunday morning, followed by an opportunity to discuss our experiences over a simple lunch courtesy of Dunblane Friends.

2. Who is it for?

Anyone who has been attending a Quaker Meeting for Worship for at least a few months and who is interested in finding out more about Quakers.

3. Where and when, exactly?

The main event is on Saturday 12 October in Stirling, from 0930 to 1630. We're meeting in the McCallum Room at Stirling Baptist Church, 67 Murray Place, Stirling, FK8 1AU. Meeting for Worship in Dunblane is at 1030 on Sunday 13 October at the Braeport Centre, Braeport, Dunblane, FK15 0AT.

4. Will it cost money?

Yes, but you don't necessarily have to pay this yourself. Either your Local Meeting or your Area Meeting will almost certainly provide bursary help to cover the cost, which will be about £25/person.

5. How do I register?

Just send email to enquirers-weekend@quakerscotland.org with "Enquirers Weekend" in the subject, tell us you're interested, how many you are and your names, any dietary or accessibility requirements and whether you think you might join us in Dunblane on Sunday.

6. Can I ask some questions?

Of course—just send email to enquirers-weekend@quakerscotland.org and ask us.

7. Who's responsible?

It was Southeast Scotland Area Meeting's turn to organise this for General Meeting for Scotland, and they asked us: Mariot Dallas, Rici Marshall Cross and Henry Thompson.
